Re: 2015 Conference on Child Rights and Sight

Dear Dr. DeBroff and Dr. Hoque:

Albertus Magnus College applauds the important work of Distressed Children International. We are proud to help sponsor the 2015 Conference on Child Rights and Sight. This conference has become one of the state's most successful international conferences and has made New Haven, Connecticut, a central location in the global campaign for the defense of child rights.

By involving young people in service to children abroad, Distressed Children International creates real leadership and development opportunities for tomorrow's leaders. Through their participation in DCI's mission, our youth learn the critical challenges faced by other children in the world and can begin to understand their own responsibility as global citizens and moral leaders in a complex world.

Our very best wishes to everyone participating in the 2015 Conference on Child Rights and Sight. Your commitment to children across the globe is, indeed, truly inspiring.

Very truly yours,

Julia M. McNamara
President
